Final reminder

Dear XXXX,

On 12 June we will be closing the survey on transparency in conducting and reporting research, which has been completed by more than 2500 researchers so far. We would greatly appreciate if you would find the time to finish the survey, and in that way helps us ensure that all opinions and views are accounted for.

All details about the project are freely available at our data repository site, where we will also share our data and findings.

Many thanks,
